

Emma faced the youth of Walsall's Blakenall Heath area who tear pigeons to pieces

Emma Trimble

Photographer | Birmingham

Emma has been a press photographer for over twenty years and racked up considerable experience covering breaking news stories alongside an array of commissions at home and abroad. Consistently building her contacts and adding to her skill set, Emma strives to produce quality video content, still images and bird's eye views with her drone, evidenced in her work. A passionate photographer who's natural with people, Emma makes a lasting impression on those she works with.
