

King Charles' waxwork receives it's finishing touches at the top of Blackpool Tower

William Lailey

Photographer | Manchester

William first picked up a camera aged 14, documenting the people around him, twenty years on he's shooting daily for work and fun. After graduating in photography from the University of Westminster his pictures have appeared on a double-decker bus, he was a winner at the Reading Cultural Awards and has appeared on the BBC. About himself William says; "I try to be as versatile as possible and bring my enthusiasm to every shoot. I've learnt to work faster on certain shoots because I love to talk, and listen."

EXPERTISE

Boundless enthusiasm

Highly recommended

Social video expert

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Reading Cultural Award

GEAR

- Canon 5D Mk 3
- Canon EOS-1D X Mk II
- Metz Flash

William travelled to Norway for the wedding of Princess Märtha Louise and Durek Levett

“There's more to photography than the act of taking a picture. It's about the places I visit and people I meet, getting a glimpse into their world and giving something back.”

QSWNS

